Susan Derderian

Children's Christian Counseling

Susan graduated from the Elijah House School in 2002. She also attended Pastoral Care Ministries in Wheaton, Illinois and studied the Theophostic counseling process at the Atlanta Vineyard. In May 2004, she graduated with her Masters in Christian Counseling from Luther Rice Seminary. She continues to educate herself by regularly attending courses and seminars. Susan is a member of the American Association of Christian Counselors.

Susan has been counseling women since 2002. She utilizes her training in assisting them to work through their issues and to develop the skills to pursue becoming a strong, emotionally healthy Christian woman. She disciples, mentors and encourages them to walk in all that the Lord dreams of for their lives.

Susan began counseling children and adolescents in 2004 utilizing play as a means for them to work through their problems/issues. Children typically will act out their concerns and worries. Because a child's natural means of communication is to play, it becomes the obvious way to enable him/ her to walk through his/ her personal healing. She works closely with the entire family to assist in the healing process.

Susan counsels children & adolescents, families and women at the Atlanta Vineyard Church. For more information, please feel free to contact:
