

Counseling

Jane Joiner

Jane has been practicing Christian prayer counseling for over ten years. She first became interested in counseling in her pre-Christian years as a student at Georgia State University where she minored in psychology. After she became a Christian, she took the Elijah House School for training prayer counselors. She has certificates in both the Basic one and Basic 2 schools and has been a course facilitator of both of these schools many times. Jane is currently working on her masters degree in counseling. She is also a member of the American Christian Counselors Association and often takes advantage of their continuing education courses.

She and her colleague, Pat Brannon, teach leadership, marriage seminars and women's retreats for local churches. Jane specializes in pre-marital, marriage & family, men and women's issues, and young adults.
